

Splinter Backyard

Task(s): Add a zone for eating, some storage and fix the mud problem.

Date: 2014

Budget: $ 3500

Notes:

- Both the balcony and the section of grass were too small for setting a 4 person table. The grass was full of white grubs and presented a water draining problem.
- We started off by lowering down the balcony and dug up the old grass.
- We installed a new drainage system and adjusted the leveling before installing interlock bloc.
- The fence was painted in beige and the new steps in brown to match the new shed.
- The new backyard offers a multi usage space to receive family and friends, but also to play basketball or hockey for with the children.

Book a free consultation with Abode HT Staging, and find out how we can help you.